3. Search and share the difference between a FBD (Daraz Mall) seller and a non-FBD seller (in terms of advantages and disadvantages)

Fulfilled by Daraz (FBD) is a service offered by Daraz Mall that allows sellers to store their products in Daraz's warehouse. When a customer places an order for an FBD product, Daraz picks up the product from the warehouse and delivers it to the customer. FBD offers Express Delivery, where one receive its orders on the same day if ordered before 10 AM or the very next day.

The advantages of FBD for sellers include:

- Increased visibility of their products on Daraz's website.
- Access to Daraz's logistics network.

- Access to Daraz's customer service team.
- Faster delivery times
- Increased trust from customers.

The disadvantages of FBD for sellers include:

- Higher fees than non-FBD sellers.
- The need to maintain inventory levels at Daraz's warehouse.
- The need to comply with Daraz's policies and procedures.

Non-FBD sellers are those who do not use Daraz's warehouse for storage and delivery of their products. They are responsible for storing and delivering their products themselves.

The advantages of non-FBD sellers include:

- Lower fees than FBD sellers.
- More control over their inventory.
- More control over their delivery times.

The disadvantages of non-FBD sellers include:

- Slower delivery times.
- Less visibility on Daraz's website.

4. What are inbound orders and outbound orders? Can a non-FBD seller use the inbound and outbound order services?

Inbound orders refer to the process of receiving products from a seller and storing them in Daraz's warehouse.

Outbound orders refer to the process of picking up products from Daraz's warehouse and delivering them back to the seller's warehouse.

Non-FBD sellers can not use inbound and outbound order services.
